How do companies
actually work with and prioritize transfer pricing?

1

Compliance (documentation/CbCr) is considered the most important and time consuming task 2020-2022

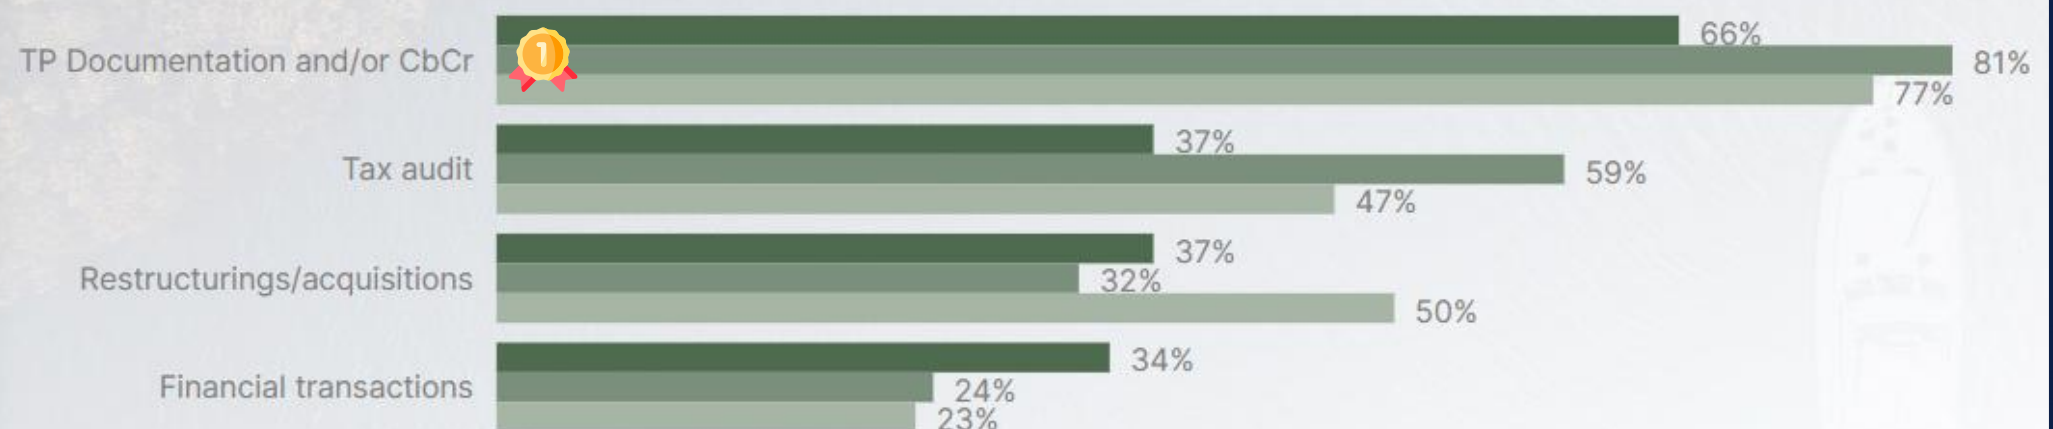

At least the same amount of effort should be spent on ensuring correct pricing policies, actual implementation, and communication within organization.

Compliance documents stand-alone are not enough to withstand challenges from the tax authorities.

2

36% of all respondents are fine with Office/G-Suite tools while 24% are looking for options to automate TP tasks

As compliance is considered the most important and time consuming and often repetitive task, TP-software could be used to automate part of the process!
